

A MOMENT OF REFLECTION

April 4, 2010 MLK Commemorative Program
National Civil Rights Museum
Auditorium and Founders Park

Forty-two years ago Martin Luther King, Jr., a man who dedicated his life to freedom and equality - to demonstrating brotherly love and challenging others to aspire to the same - was assassinated at the Lorraine Motel. Each year the Museum honors his life with a program of remembrance. The mission of the museum is to keep his legacy and the story of the civil rights movement alive in order to inspire participation in the ongoing struggle for civil and human rights, both in this country and abroad.
